

2pt Perspective Letters

Objective: Learn to draw two-point perspective letter forms using the step by step instructions

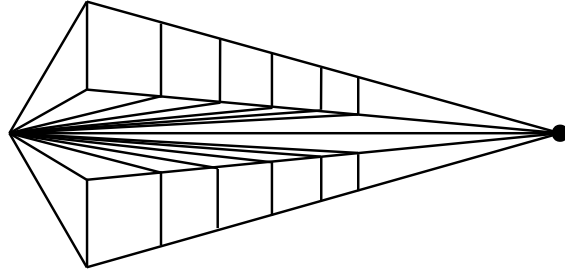

Directions: Use the diagrams and instructions to produce your own two-point perspective letter drawing. Use the provided score guide to reflect on your progress.

Step 1:

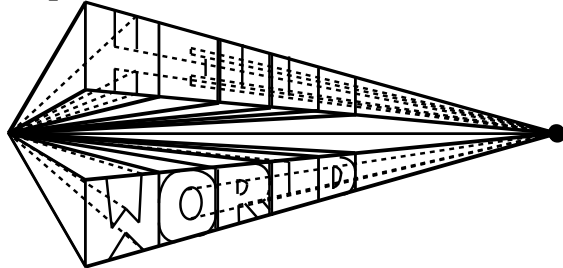

Choose at least eight letters. Draw the horizon line, vanishing point, and the two foreshortened rectangles that will hold the letters. Notice the only lines not pointing to a vanishing point are the ones that are completely vertical.

Step 2:

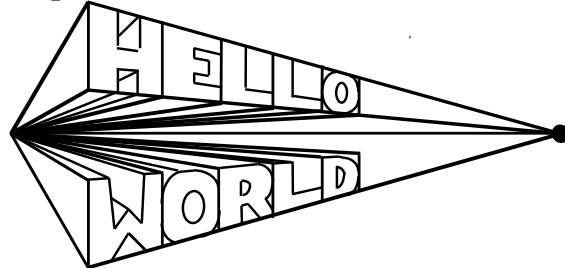

Divide the rectangles into smaller blocks for each letter. Make sure that the vertical lines are closer together as they approach the far vanishing point to create a sense of space and distance. All other lines need to be completely vertical.

Step 3:

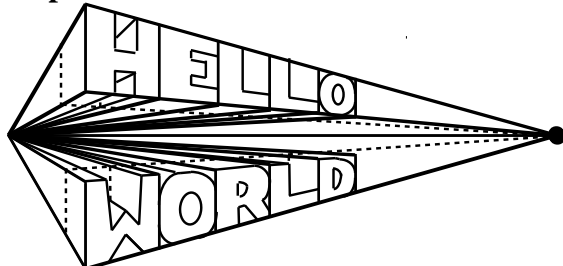

Use the vanishing points to guide the midlines and shapes of each letter. Draw lightly so it will be easy to erase later.

Step 4:

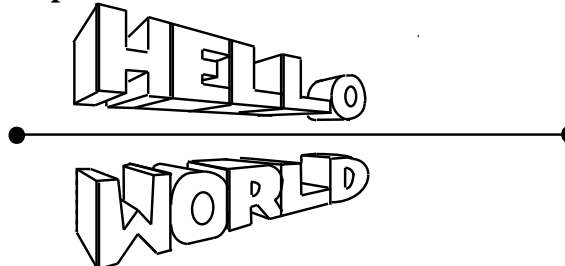

Revise and clean your drawing until the letter faces are finished.

Step 5:

Decide the depth of the letters and use the vanishing points to create a guide for where that back edges of the letters should be placed.

Step 6:

Finalize the depth and make sure there are no missing lines. Check again for any incorrect lines that are not pointing directly at the vanishing point, then erase any unused lines to finish the drawing.
