This Week in our Class

Please make sure that your child is reading their library books EVERY night and bringing them back to class EVERY day.

Language Arts this week will discuss character and setting in stories and understanding plurals. We will also learn about segmenting sounds (we call them sound boxes), and the sounds: "z", and short o. Character and setting of a story will also be discussed.

In math this week we will be working on numbers in order, missing numbers and utilizing ten frames. We will also work a little with understanding a part/part whole chart and writing addition and subtraction sentences.

In social studies this week we are discussing community helpers and rules/laws. We will also have some visitors in our classroom this week!
